

Educator's Training Programme
20 – 23 May 2012
at the Jewish Historical Museum Amsterdam

Introduction

The AEJM considers museum education as one of the key aspects of the work of Jewish museums. The Educator's Training Programme is developed to promote educational skills and expertise specific to Jewish Museums that are not taught in standard museological courses. The Programme offers AEJM members both professional training in the field of museum education and the opportunity to share common challenges. By this, the Programme aims at improving the performance and the impact of museum education of AEJM member institutions.
